SECRETS IN THE ATTIC

Come see the remarkable discoveries from Bohemian and Moravian synagogues

Phylacteries, Torah scrolls, amulets, a variety of personal effects, even shoes. All of these objects were discovered by museum personnel over the past few decades in the synagogue attics of Bohemia and Moravia.

As part of its Secrets in the Attic project, the Jewish Museum in Prague is now showing this unique collection of newly restored objects to the public in the locales from where they came, as well as making it available online at the collection catalogue and on Facebook and Historypin.
